ADELSON, TESTAN, BRUNDO, NOVELL & JIMENEZ RECOGNIZED AS BEST LAW FIRM FOR FEMALE PARTNERS

Workers' Comp Defense Firm Earns Top Ranking from Law360

NEW YORK, April 23, 2014 – Law360, a leading publication covering law firms and legal developments, has ranked Adelson, Testan, Brundo, Novell & Jimenez (ATB) as the country's top law firm in terms of percentage of female partners. The ranking appeared in The Glass Ceiling Report: 2014, the publisher's annual report listing 25 U.S.-based law firms out of more than 380 surveyed that have the highest percentage of female partners.

According to Law360, the report found that while women make up 43 percent of the non-partner ranks at U.S. law firms, they comprise just 21 percent of partnerships. However, at ATB, which had the highest overall ranking in the report, women attorneys account for nearly half (47.6%) of the firm's partners. "Ever since we began operations nearly two decades ago, we have sought to enhance opportunity in the legal profession," said Steven Testan, founder and senior managing partner of ATB. "We are delighted to gain the recognition of Law360, as we continue to build our success by fostering an inclusive culture and putting together a pool of talent that reflects the diversity goals of our private and public clients."

Established in 1996, ATB is a national law firm with more than 130 attorneys in 26 offices. The firm's primary focus is on the defense of workers' compensation claims, employer's liability and related matters as well as the defense of its clients in personal injury and civil litigation cases.
