ADELSON, TESTAN, BRUNDO, NOVELL & JIMENEZ APPOINTS MARC MIDDLETON AS MANAGING ATTORNEY OF OMAHA OFFICE

OMAHA, June 16, 2014 – Adelson, Testan, Brundo, Novell & Jimenez (ATB), a national law firm focusing on workers' compensation defense, today announced it has appointed Marc N. Middleton as managing attorney of the Omaha office. Established in 1996, ATB has more than 130 professionals serving clients across the U.S.

Mr. Middleton, who will focus on workers' compensation defense, personal injury defense, general liability cases and complex and legacy claim closure initiatives, will serve the firm's clients in Nebraska, Missouri, Iowa and Kansas.

"As large employers in Nebraska, Missouri, Iowa and Kansas and their insurers seek legal expertise for workers' compensation defense and complex claims, many need a combination of strategic resources available from a national law firm along with effective local capabilities," said Steven Testan, founder and senior managing partner, ATB. "Marc's extensive experience representing clients in courts throughout the region gives us a strong local presence to go with our proven national capabilities to deliver innovative and cost-effective solutions for clients with complex defense needs."

Before joining ATB, Mr. Middleton was an associate attorney with Fisher, Patterson, Sayler & Smith, LLP in Overland Park, Kansas, serving clients in that state and Missouri. Earlier, he was with another regional law firm in Kansas City, Missouri. He earned both a B.A. degree in Political Science and J.D. degree from the University of Missouri at Columbia.

During his career, Mr. Middleton has worked extensively with federal and state courts throughout Nebraska, Missouri, Iowa, and Kansas. He is a member of the Kansas City Metropolitan Bar Association, Defense Research Institute, Legal Aid Board of Young Professionals, and Phi Delta Phi, as well as a past member of the Black Law Student Association.
